Happenings of Interest in Our

Remembered For Thirty Years.
Many people have heard Darwin Field
of George E. Sayles post, Grand Army, tell the story of a life he saved during the late war. John White, a Union soldier was being chased at bayonet point, around a huge tree by a Southern soldier. He had no bayonet or ammunition. The rebel was just about to prod White with the steel when Mr. Field happened on the scene and sent a bullet through the supporter of Jeff Davis. White swore never to forget Mr. Field and that he has a good memory asserted itself yesterday when he sent Field a handsome gold watch.
Mr. Field was much moved by the gift,
in which he takes the greatest pride.The Renfews.
Manager Fern brought this team of Renfews against Stanley at Pittsfield this afternoon: Gannon pitcher, Makey

third, Morton short, Emsworth center,

will go to Chatham Saturday and Manager
Fern expects to come out of the triangular league with flying colors.The Alumni Banquet.
The Alumni committee will arrange

Regatta Committee Denies Request to Disqualify Defender.

A Letter Containing a Few Words of Censure.

How the Matter is Looked Upon by Some of the Yachtsmen.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 8.—Letters from the regatta committee have been given out by C. O. Iselin. Commodore Kane, when asked about the letters, said he regretted not being in a position to give them to the press, because they are privileged communications. Mr. Iselin could give them out if he desired. Mr. Iselin was quite willing that the letters should be published. A similar letter was mailed last evening to E. A. Willard, who is now at Bristol, on the Vigilant. The letters speak for themselves:

FLAGSHIP SYLVIA, NEWPORT HARBOR, Aug. 7.
DEAR SIR:—Referring to your protest of July 23, asking that the Defender be disqualified for alleged violation of section 8, rule 16, of the racing rules and referring to your subsequent request at the Vineyard for a postponement of a decision until the squadron returned to Newport, we now beg to say that, after mature consideration, the committee has reached the conclusion that they cannot sustain the protest.

Yours respectfully,
S. THOMAS KANE,
Commodore.
CHESTER GRISWOLD,
Regatta Committee.

Racing Rules Are Enforced.
The second letter reads:

FLAGSHIP SYLVIA, NEWPORT HARBOR, Aug. 7.
DEAR SIR:—We beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of yesterday, wherein you notify us of Vigilant's withdrawal from the Thursday and Saturday races of this week, and that you cannot continue racing unless the contest is to be conducted according to the rules of yachting. Our committee regret your decision to withdraw from the race, and regret your published statement that the racing rules are not being properly enforced, and for this statement, we consider there is no warrant.

Yours respectfully,
S. THOMAS KANE,
Commodore.
CHESTER GRISWOLD,
Regatta Committee.

Yachtsmen's Comment.
In speaking of the matter, William H. Butler, of the steam yacht Forgetmenot, said: "The Vigilant was in the right and should have had her course and run into the Defender."

J. B. King, owner of the schooner Elsie Marie, thought the Vigilant should be allowed to race fairly and not be bothered all the time through the Defender's disregard of racing rules.

George Butler, of the steam yacht Forgetmenot, said that if Mr. Willard had not given way on two occasions, there would be no cup defend except the Vigilant to meet the Valkyrie.

W. E. Iselin thought that the Vigilant should not have been withdrawn, and that if the Defender was wrong, the regatta committee should rule her out.

Colonel Hester of the sloop yacht Wizard said: "I think the Vigilant should have had a show, and should not be made to relinquish all her rights to the new boat."

J. S. Beardsford said: "If Captain Barr had not been ordered to keep off, there would certainly have been a collision."

Another Italian Shooting Affair.
BOSTON, Aug. 8.—An Italian fruit dealer named Sergio was shot by another fruit dealer named Spadaro, in front of Spadaro's store on North street yesterday morning. Sergio was probably shot while shooting is supposed to have come about because Spadaro discharged a boy who is said to be a relative of Sergio. Sergio walked down by Spadaro's place yesterday, and in going by made a grimace at Spadaro, and shrugged his shoulders in the true Italian manner. Spadaro saw Sergio had a knife, and, coming out with his revolver, shot three times, hitting his enemy each time. Spadaro told the police that he shot in self-defense, but Sergio says the knife seen by Spadaro had been in his pocket, but had fallen out, and that he was just stooping over to pick it up.

Death of Father Hughes.
HARTFORD, Aug. 8.—Very Rev. Father James Hughes died at 8:30 o'clock last night from an attack of hemorrhage of the stomach. The deceased was 64 years of age. He was born in Longford county, Ireland, in October, 1830. He came to this country in 1844. He was educated at Fordham college, graduating in 1858. He came to Hartford, Nov. 10, 1854. He had been vicar general for years. Owing to the infirmities of age, he recently asked to be relieved from the duties of vicar general, and Father Muleady of Waterbury has been filling the duties of the office.

Doctor Charged With Murder.
BOSTON, Aug. 8.—Dr. J. W. Brown is under arrest on complaint for murder. One of his patients, the wife of Perley C. Furrell, died at 143 Worcester street, and it is alleged that Brown is responsible for her death. He has in the past been called upon to defend himself in court. In this particular instance he was mostly trapped. Being ushered into the room in which the dead body lay, and supposing that nobody except the husband was present, he conversed in such a way as to furnish strong evidence against himself, for there were three policemen concealed where all he said could be heard.

Writer of Popular Songs.
PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 8.—Dr. George F. Root, the well-known composer of national music, died suddenly at his summer cottage on Bailey's island. Dr. Root's 75th birthday and his golden wedding anniversary were to have been celebrated together on Aug. 30. Prominent among Dr. Root's musical works were several cantatas. The war came on he wrote the war songs, "The Battle Cry of Freedom" ("Yes, We'll Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys"), "Just Before the Battle, Mother," "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," and "The Vacant Chair."

Coming to Boston.
BOSTON, Aug. 8.—Notifications still continue to come from the commanderies of Knights Templar in the west announcing their intention of attending the triennial convocation in this city. Among the latest ones to be received are those of Springfield, Ill.; St. Joseph, Mo.; Peoria, Ill.; Dayton, O., and Terre Haute, Ind. An album, containing one or more cards, representing every commandery of Knights Templar which was constituted previous to the Washington convocation, will be on exhibition during the coming meeting at the headquarters of Joseph Warren commandery in Roxbury.

In Claude Duval Style.
WAKEFIELD, Mass., Aug. 8.—Two little children of Mrs. Abbott were sent to the store yesterday to make some purchases, and while on the way were met by a 10-year-old boy who demanded their money. He drew a knife and threatened to use it if they did not comply with his request. The children gave the youthful highwayman the pocketbook, containing all the money, and ran home and reported the matter to their parents. The police have been notified and will probably arrest the young Claude Duval.

HOSPITALS ARE GONE.

American and British Missions Attacked by Vegetarians.

Chinese Troops Can Render but Little Aid.

Further Details of the Recent Attack on the Missions at Ku-Cheng.

CANTON, Aug. 8.—The British and American missions at Fath-Shan were attacked yesterday afternoon by a large and infuriated mob.

The hospitals were demolished.

Some of the missionaries fled to Shamen, while others remained.

A Chinese gunboat has been dispatched to quell the riots.

It is reported that all the missions at Kwang-Tung will soon be destroyed and the missionaries driven to the treaty ports.

The Vegetarians are 12,000 strong and well-armed and organized, and able to withstand the Chinese troops.

THE KU-CHENG MASSACRE

Described by Dr. Gregory, an American Missionary at That Place.

Dr. Gregory, an American missionary, who escaped from Ku-Cheng, gives the following account of the massacre there: At 12:30 p. m., Thursday, Aug. 1, a native Christian rushed into my study, saying that several of the foreign ladies at a mountain resort about 19 miles from the city of Ku-Cheng, had been killed that morning, and that two houses had been burned. Fifteen minutes later a note from Mr. Phillips confirmed this. He wrote that five ladies were dead, the Stevens were missing, and four persons were seriously wounded. He expressed the hope that I was then on my way to Hwasang.

I immediately went into the Yamen, where hundreds of excited natives had already gathered, and requested the district magistrate, Wong, to send some soldiers at once to Hwasang to protect those still living. In half an hour the magistrate went to Hwasang under an escort of about 40 soldiers.

At 3 p. m. I left Ku-Cheng under an escort of 13 soldiers, arriving at Hwasang at 8 p. m., to find that nine adults, all British subjects, had been murdered, and that all those still alive at Hwasang—eight only—had been more or less injured, excepting Mr. Phillips, who had arrived only two or three days before and was lodging at a native house some distance from the English cottages.

I was delayed in leaving Ku-Cheng, owing to the fact that the coolies refused to carry chairs. On my arrival I went to work to make the injured as comfortable as possible.

Miss Cordington received a sword cut extending from the angle of her mouth, diagonally, outward and downward seven inches long, completely dividing the lower lip and exposing the interior maxillary bone; one cut on the crown, three inches in length and quite down to the inner table of the skull; one cut across the nose, beneath the right eye, five inches long, and another three inches long, on the right side of the neck. The last two were skin wounds only. There were also two contusions on the right arm and a deep punctured wound on the outside of the right thigh. Her condition is serious.

Miss Mabel C. Hartford, of the Methodist mission, the only American residing in Hwasang at the time, was living in a small native house some 20 rods from the English cottages. She was attacked by one of the assassins armed with a trident. She received a slight cut in the lobe of the ear; was thrown to the ground, beaten about the lower extremities and the body. While the murderer was engaged in this attack a servant grappled with the assailant, and during the struggle Miss Hartford escaped.

Miss Hells remained hidden until all was over. Her nervous system sustained a serious injury.

Mildred Stewart, aged 12 years, received a wound on the outside of the right knee-joint, six inches long, exposing the joint, and two punctured wounds, one on the left leg and one on the left foot. Her condition is serious.

Baby Stewart, 13 months old, has a severe injury to the right eye, a small penetrating wound in the frontal region, which enters the cranial cavity, and several severe bruises on the head and body. The injuries will probably prove fatal.

All the wounds apparently were made by the sword and spears.

Of those killed outright, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Nellie Saunders, and Lena Follow, an Irish nurse, were almost wholly incinerated in the burned house. In all probability they were murdered before the house was burned. Kathleen Stewart saw Nellie Saunders lying unconscious on the nursery floor.

Hessie Newcomb was cut on the left cheek and left hand, probably with a spear, and then was thrown over a steep embankment, where we recovered the body.

Miss Marshall's throat was frightfully cut, and there was a deep sword wound in the left wrist.

I failed to find any serious wound on the body of Miss Stewart. I am inclined to think she died from shock.

Miss Gordon received a deep spear wound in the face, another in the side of the neck and one on the right side of the head.

Topsy Saunders' death was caused by a spear wound on the right side of the head, the weapon entering the brain. The last three bodies were lying in one heap.

This frightful massacre was done by the members of the secret society known as the Vegetarians, who have been causing much trouble alike to Christians and heathens in and around Ku-Cheng city.

From various reports of those who saw the attack, I believe that about 80 men were engaged. They were armed with spears and swords, and seemed strangely organized under one leader.

The attack came like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky, not one of the victims having the slightest intimation of the intention to assault them. Thirty minutes from the time the onslaught commenced not a single Vegetarian was to be seen near the grounds of the massacre.

When the question is raised as to the cause of this terrible massacre, one need have little doubt that the Vegetarians were the active participants, and that the local and provincial authorities were directly implicated in the crime seems certain, for the society has been straggling around Ku-Cheng for two years, and increasing.

Strike Is Ended.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Meyer Schoenfeld, who has successfully engineered the strike between the contractors and the tailors, was the recipient of many expressions of congratulatory sentiment when he made the announcement that the strike was practically over, save for the stubbornness of a few contractors. The small contractors, having shown an inclination from the start to keep the fight up with the tailors, will be boycotted before the end of the week, as their former employees are finding employment in other shops.

The Railroad Rate War.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—The eastern passenger men are in trouble over the discovery that the Chicago market is stocked up with return tickets of round-trip tickets from the east. The scalpers have about all they want of the tickets. The Baltimore and Ohio helped things along a trifle yesterday by announcing an excursion from Chicago to points on the Atlantic seaboard for one fare for the round trip. No other road has met the rate as yet, and it is not certain that any of them will do so.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gun derman, of Diamondville, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at River Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at Burlingame & Darby's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00 1.
